

Bio Sketch

Dr. S.S. Chauhan, a 1998 Mechanical Engineering graduate from the Marathwada University, M.S. India, completed his M. Tech. in System Engineering from Dyalbagh University, Agra, India, and Ph. D from UPTU University, Lucknow 2011. Upon completion of his B. Tech degree, he started his academic journey from Hindustan

College of Engineering & Technology, Farah Mathura as a lecturer. After 4-years of work experience with Sharda Group of Institutions, he joined IEC College of Engineering, Greater Noida as a Sr. Lecturer. He was actively involved for the overall development of IEC as a Dean Planning & Development. Prof Chauhan also served as Head of the Department of Mechanical & Automobile Engineering at IEC during his tenure.

He is actively engaged in teaching, research, and technology, and completed projects worth more than Rs. 30 Lacs. He established the academics at IEC University, Baddi in 2013. As recognition of his international collaborations, Prof. Chauhan is associated with Prof Marco Ceccarelli, (ASME fellow, Past IFTOMM President, Dr Honoris Causa) LARM: Laboratory of Robotics and Mechatronics, DIMSAT; University of Cassino for their research work. Prof. Chauhan is actively involved in teaching-learning process and taught more than 20 subjects in his teaching career. He was the member of Board of Studies (UG/PG Courses), Mahamaya Technical University Noida. He was also the Program Committee member and papers reviewer for NaCoMM 2011 Conference at IIT Madras. He has Joined Skyline Institute of Technology and Management, Greater Noida in the year 2014 as a Director. He is well